

PLPA

Port Ludlow Performing Arts (PLPA)

is a 501(c) (3) non profit organization with a volunteer Board of Directors. Its mission is to provide quality entertainment for our audiences, as well as offering educational outreach to support musical education opportunities in the local schools. We have been bringing musical entertainment and more to Port Ludlow for more than 30 years.

Martha's Fund*

PLPA's Educational Outreach is funded primarily by The Martha Dawson Fund created by long-time supporter Ron Dawson in memory of his wife Martha, former PLPA Board President and one of the original founders of our outreach program. This fund has been an amazing gift to our community and we are honored to be its steward. PLPA welcomes your contributions, your involvement in our Educational Outreach, and your attendance at our outstanding concerts.

Donations

As with most performing arts venues, revenue from ticket sales covers only a portion of the expense of bringing a show to Port Ludlow. The remaining support for our concerts and outreach program comes from individuals, local businesses, corporations, government agencies and public and private foundations. Your support is vital to our continued success. If you would like to contribute to PLPA, you may donate at various levels as indicated on the other side of this brochure. Your donations are tax deductible and may be made through our website or via check.

Bridge & Wolak

7PM / SATURDAY / APRIL 30TH
DOORS OPEN AT 6:30PM

Michael Bridge (digital accordion & piano) and Kornel Wolak (clarinet & piano) are an internationally acclaimed music and comedy duo, integrating traditional acoustic instruments with 21st century digital technology. With deft virtuosity and endless wit, they have been called the "Victor Borge of the 21st century." Fun-loving gentlemen (with seven degrees in music), they are both globe-trotting musicians and educators.

America's Sweethearts

2PM / SUNDAY / DECEMBER 5TH
DOORS OPEN AT 1:30PM

From Big-Band to Broadway – in a Three-Part Harmony . . .

America has loved the swinging sounds of female close-harmony groups even before The Andrews Sisters hit the airwaves. But audiences will hear those great vintage songs with fresh ears when America's Sweethearts take the stage in their fresh and vibrant show. Celebrating the Christmas season and also presenting songs from the Great American Songbook, classic Broadway, pop tunes and jazz, they charm audiences of all ages all with a slice of old-fashioned fun.
